This is a cute little bingo which has been designed for four children to play at one time.

This game uses cubes as a unique way of teaching (or reinforcing) the alphabet sounds.

Children simply throw one of the five cubes provided, then they isolate the initial sound of the object/animal that lands face up. They must then see if they have that sound on their bingo card.

The alphabet cubes can also be used independent of the bingo game to teach a child to isolate the initial sounds of spoken words.

Also provided is an alphabet chart, star interactive pieces and full instructions for assembling the cubes and for playing the alphabet bingo.
