A simple and fun way of teaching young inexperienced children to isolate the initial sound of objects/animals. It really is a great way of building awareness.

To play with these cubes the children simply throw a cube (like a dice) and then isolate the initial sound of the object/animal that lands face up.

This resource is made up of five different cubes which together cover all of the alphabet sounds. Full instructions are given on how to construct them.

A bingo game has also been designed to be used with these cubes. Please see the 'Alphabet Cube Bingo' for more information on that product.
